California Department of Housing and Community Development Provides Housing Development Funds for Disabled and Homeless

SACRAMENTO – The California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) Director Lucetta Dunn announced awards of more than $12.2 million through HCD's Multifamily Housing Program – Supportive Housing Component. The funds will be used for the new construction or rehabilitation of 196 apartment homes that will house at least 250 persons who are disabled and homeless, or at-risk of becoming homeless. Funding is also provided for the development of space for comprehensive services such as vocational services, one-on-one counseling, or health services for chronic health conditions.

“The funds announced today will provide new housing for the homeless and disabled as well as access to the important services they need most. Business, Transportation and Housing Agency Secretary Sunne Wright McPeak and I are dedicated to helping improve the lives of Californians by providing safe, stable, and affordable housing,” commented Director Dunn.

The awards are as follows:
